NOTE:

- All incidents contained in this report are based on information received by NCEASL from member Churches and affiliates.

- As far as possible, all information has been verified through interviews with victims, Church leaders, eye witnesses and Police and through site visits by NCEASL staff.

- NCEASL has monitored and documented incidents since 1987.

- It is generally accepted that approximately 40% of incidents are never reported.

** EXPLANATORY NOTE:

The marked reduction in the number of violent incidents – in comparison with 2009 may be attributed to the upward trend of utilizing the Circular issued by the Ministry of Religious Affairs (in November 2008) to arbitrarily close down places of worship. Although the Circular in question is not a law sanctioned by Parliament, it is used very effectively to question the legality of churches and order them to close down, unless they can show proof of a letter of approval from the Ministry.

It must be noted that there is no legal requirement or prescribed procedure that allows the Ministry of Religious Affairs or any other government office to bestow legitimacy for religions or permission for places of worship to function.

Freedom of religion is guaranteed under article 10 and 14 (1) (e) of the Sri Lankan Constitution.
